

More U.S. Marines Land At Beirut And Move Into City While Rebel Forces Advance

By EDWIN A. SHANKE
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Another U.S. Marine battalion landed in Lebanon today. Advance units moved from their beachhead into Beirut, the capital.

This swelled the total of Lebanese in this troubled republic to 3,600. More are on the way.

Rebel leaders fighting to topple pro-Western President Camille Chamoun have denounced the Marine landing. But there was no opposition as the Marines swung into the capital.

Tension Grips City
Rebel leader Saad Salam, holed up in the Muslim quarter of Beirut, issued a statement urging Lebanese "to defend your country and safeguard your freedom."

An air of tension gripped the city. Rebel forces moved forward three blocks from behind their barricades.

American civilians were leaving the country in greater numbers. Of about 3,200 Americans in Lebanon, 220 private citizens and 18 dependents of embassy personnel have left since the revolt began 68 days ago.

The United States, which sent in the Marines at Chamoun's request, described the intervention here as the creation of a beachhead to assure peace and stability in the Middle East.

Spotlight May Shift
The reaction of the Soviet Union and the Arab bloc headed by Egypt's President Nasser was not yet known.

The spotlight appeared likely to shift rapidly from Lebanon to neighboring Jordan, the partner of Iraq in the Arab Federation.

A pro-Nasser coup on Monday overthrew Faisal, King of Iraq and chief of the Federation. Reports were still conflicting as to the fate of Faisal.

King Hussein of Jordan announced his succession to Faisal as head of the Federation.

A Jordan spokesman in Amman said the United States and Britain were considering what aid to give Jordan. The Jordan radio indicated Hussein has asked for assistance to put down the rebel regime in Baghdad.

British Forces On Move
Britain has announced movements of land, air and sea forces toward the Middle East.

The first Marine unit to enter Beirut was headed by U.S. Ambassador Robert McClellan; Adm. James L. Holloway, commander of the U.S. forces; and Gen. Guad Shehab, commander of the Lebanese army. It included a tank and two troop carriers with 30 men aboard. This column stopped at the U.S. Embassy.

Another unit, including a tank and five amphibious troop carriers with 150 men, continued to the port area to secure it for the landing of supplies at docks. More men were on the way.

11 Ships At Anchor
The second contingent of 1,800 Marines landed early today from ships of the U.S. 6th Fleet, joined.

FRENCH GROUP PICKS CHERRIES

A group of French students from the 81st class of the National School of Horticulture in Versailles, France, was conducted on a tour of cherry operations at The C. H. Musselman Company's Bigville plant on Tuesday evening. Accompanying the students were Mrs. Helena Kruger and John H. Eberly of the Brethren Service Commission, New Windsor, Md.

The group, composed of 23 men and three women accompanied by two of their professors, arrived in the United States on July 1 and is spending the summer working and touring in this country, with departure scheduled for September 10.

Their program is divided into two main parts — an actual work experience in some field of American horticulture, and a school bus tour of eastern and midwest states with their purpose stated as aiming "toward a better exchange of agricultural techniques and a greater understanding between our countries."

Lloyd Flying To U.S. For Conferences; Britain Ready

By ARTHUR GAVSHON
LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd is flying to Washington tonight for conferences. He is reported to be taking word that Britain stands ready to land forces in Jordan as soon as King Hussein asks for military help.

In the House of Commons today Lloyd said he had been invited to Washington by Secretary of State Dulles, and would go in order "to keep in the closest touch with the U.S. government."

Then, using a phrase that President Eisenhower emphasized Tuesday, he said events that led to the Baghdad revolt were part of a sustained campaign of indirect aggression.

Back U. S. Move
The aim, he said, is to overthrow established regimes and orders in the small independent nations of the Middle East.

Lloyd announced Tuesday that Britain backed U.S. intervention in Lebanon. Today he said this had resulted in the rebels there ordering a ceasefire.

As for Jordan, qualified informants in London said the government almost certainly will respond affirmatively if its young king, Hussein, asks for help. Up to this afternoon, he had not done so but Jordan had sounded out the British as to whether air and land forces would be available if needed.

Alert British Forces
British authorities have alerted air, land and sea forces all the way from the home islands to Kenya in East Africa for possible action in the Middle East.

Informants said military action also is likely in the oil islands of the Persian Gulf if any threat arises against British oil investments there.

Britain's decision to recognize Hussein as the legal head of the Iraq-Jordan union has not yet been announced. Nor do the British know how Hussein proposes to try to establish the authority he claims over rebel-controlled Iraqi territory.

The assumption here—which no government official will confirm—is that he is planning to take military action against the Iraqi rebels if it seems to him that any such campaign may succeed.

Will Visit Sites Of "Expected" Battles
Gettysburg's Civil War Round Table on July 24 will visit battlefields that "might have been" had General Lee and General Meade had their way.

Secretary Jacob M. Sheeds said today that the Round Table will meet at the west end guide station at 6 o'clock July 24 to visit the proposed defensive positions planned by Lee in the Cashtown Pass and the proposed defensive position advanced by Meade at Big Pipe Creek.

Both plans were abandoned when the Battle of Gettysburg was joined. Dr. Frederick Tilberg, National Park historian, will conduct the tour to the "battlefields that might have been."

Two Men Added To Company A Tuesday

One man was assigned and another attached Tuesday evening at a meeting of Company A of the 313th Infantry Regiment, 39 Queen St. Assigned was Sp-4 Eugene R. Stough, 958 York St., Hanover. Pvt-2 James L. Musselman, Fairfield R. 1, was attached to the unit pending receipt of assignment orders. Both men have had prior military service.

The first hour of the meeting was used for the inspection and the care and cleaning of equipment. The second hour consisted of a practical exercise in night patrolling conducted by 2nd Lt. Richard L. Darr, Carlisle. Sfc. Nile R. Little, Aspers R. 1, conducted on the job training for the headquarters platoon.

KENNETH JOHNS PRESIDENT OF PLANNING BD.

Kenneth W. Johns, Adams County clerk of courts and former borough councilman, was elected chairman of the new Gettysburg Planning Commission at an organization meeting Tuesday evening at the engine house.

The members of the commission were named July 7 by council. Council President H. M. Oyer called the meeting of the commission Tuesday night and presided until organization took place.

S. Blaine Miller, local contractor and real estate developer, was named vice chairman. F. Stanley Hoffman, Gettysburg College business manager, was elected secretary. Other members of the board are former Councilman L. D. Shealer, who also was a member of the town's original planning commission, and Orville B. Orner.

Burgess And Solicitor There
Burgess Wilbur L. Plank and Borough Solicitor Eugene V. Bullett met with the commission. Burgess Plank presented the group with maps of the borough and copies of the Gettysburg Traffic and Parking Survey made by the state.

Mr. Bullett explained the laws under which planning commissions operate and their duties and powers. The question of zoning was raised and it was explained that zoning studies can be one of the functions of a planning commission if it seems fit to make such studies. The planning commission studies the problem of zoning and then makes recommendation to borough council which has the function of holding hearings and passing ordinances required, it was explained.

Several members of the commission suggested that a study of zoning should have a priority in the functions of the new commission.

The commission set the second Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the engine house for its meetings. The second Monday was chosen so that the board can act quickly on any work given it by council at its first Monday of the month sessions, President Johns said.

RULE OUT CARS FOR GUESTS AT COUNTY HOME

Guests at the county home will not be permitted to own and operate autos.

That was the decision of the county commissioners at their meeting this morning in the court house in response to a question by County Home Stewart Herbert Taylor.

Taylor asked: "What do you want to do about guest at the home having cars?"

The commissioners almost collectively asked: "What was that again?"

Taylor explained: One of the guests at the home has purchased a car and plans to drive it around to pick cherries, peaches, etc.

The commissioners held that the idea of a guest at the county home having a car was new to them and began to consider implications that might arise.

The particular guest was said to be one who receives a social security check which provides him with money above the approximately $2 per day he pays the county for his board and keep at the county home.

After considering the matter the commissioners voted against guests maintaining autos.

In the first place, they held, if a person can afford to operate a car he should be able to afford residence elsewhere and secondly and equally important: if a guest were to have an auto accident, the county might find itself liable for damages.

Property Transfers
Two deeds totaling $2,500 were filed in the office of register and recorder this morning.

Hammarskjold Says Lebanon Requires No Military Force

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold said in effect today that no international military force is needed to stop the flow of outside aid to Lebanese rebels.

The secretary general addressed the 11-nation Security Council briefly just before U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge formally called for the establishment of a security force to supplement the U.N. observer group now in Lebanon.

Hammarskjold said he had been informed by the observation group that it had successfully completed arrangements for inspection of the entire Lebanese border.

Observation Groups Enough
"It is my feeling," he added, "that with the result thus achieved, the observation group is fully equipped to play the part envisaged for it in the U.N. total effort, with its general purpose of ensuring against infiltration and smuggling of arms."

One reason given by the United States for the landing of American Marines and for proposing a new security force was the inability of the U.N. observers to stop the flow of aid from the United Arab Republic to the Lebanese rebels.

Lodge commended the work of the observer group but said the proposed international force was intended to give it added strength.

"We recognize," he said, "that the means available to this organization (observer group) are insufficient to meet all aspects of the situation. This is particularly true in the light of recent events in Iraq and ... efforts to overthrow the lawful government of Jordan."

The Soviet Union was promoting a rival proposal for the Council to demand immediate withdrawal of the Marines the United States landed in Lebanon Tuesday.

Delegates predicted the Council would vote on both resolutions by nightfall.

No one expected the Soviet resolution to get the necessary seven votes for adoption, and a Soviet veto of the U. S. proposal was generally anticipated. But one delegate suggested the Soviets might abstain from voting and let the American resolution pass, preferring "a U. N. force to an American force."

Diplomatic sources said that if the Soviet Union vetoed the American resolution, the United States would not ask for a special session of the General Assembly to set up the U.N. force. Instead it would leave the Marines in Lebanon as long as it was thought necessary.

Colemans File Suit For Crash Damages

A damage action has been instituted in Adams County Court by Dr. and Mrs. J. Walter Coleman and their son, John V. Coleman, Washington, D. C., against Alice M. Phiel, administratrix of the estate of John Howard Hartley, late of Gettysburg.

The complaint in the action, on which a summons in trespass was asked to be issued by Attorney Donald G. Oyer for the Colemans, has not been filed.

John V. Coleman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Coleman, was injured in an auto accident last summer in which John Howard Hartley, driver of the car, and another local youth, Raymond "Jack" Weaver, were fatally injured.

VOLUNTEERS TO SKIRMISH WITH CIVIL WAR ARMS

The Chartiers Valley Volunteers, Co. E, 9th Regiment, will move into Gettysburg for their mock Civil War skirmish on Friday evening according to historian Taylor H. Beech of the Pittsburgh area skirmish group. The outfit will bivouac in the parking lot near the National Museum.

Accompanying the Volunteers will be their wives garbed in Civil War dress. The group will display its new 34 star Civil War flag along with company and battery guidons. They will broadcast Civil War song recordings throughout the camping area.

Wearing authentic uniforms the outfit will demonstrate the fire power of old muskets. The powerful 56-caliber muskets they use are surprisingly accurate and the Volunteers are good enough riflemen to score bull's eyes.

Frequently the Chartiers group swaps the role of infantryman for that of the artillery with their bright red jackets and six-pound Napoleon cannon. They use shells made of fruit cans filled with concrete.

The group will arrive between 6 and 9 p.m. on Friday and strike their camp about 5 p.m. on Sunday. Between 3 and 4 p.m. Saturday they will carry on a shooting match to show the use of Civil War arms and the methods of loading and firing and black powder muzzle loaders. The exhibition will be repeated on Saturday between 2 and 3 p.m.

The Volunteers are on of the most active members of the North-South Skirmish association groups. On June 28 the Pittsburgh Press devoted a large portion of its magazine section to a picture story of the group in action.

Electrical Storm Plunges Town Into Darkness As MECO Station Is Hit; Crabill Barn Destroyed

SEEK TRIO FROM FREDERICK IN SHOOTING CASE

State police today continued their search for a youth, allegedly from Frederick, who shot 20-year-old Bernard F. Ditzler, Hanover, near Dicks Dam early Tuesday morning.

Police said today that Ditzler is in a "fair" condition at the Hanover hospital after having been shot in the abdomen and upper right arm by a .32 caliber automatic pistol.

The story of the shooting, as told to police, follows: Ditzler was one of a group of five young men from the Hanover area who had been swimming at Dicks Dam Monday night. About midnight they started toward Hanover and had halted at the stop sign at the end of the Dick's Dam Rd. before entering the Hanover-Carlisle Rd.

Followed Other Car
At that moment another car entered the Dicks Dam road and there was a "hello" shouted from the other vehicle.

The five Hanover men, believing that they knew the other car and that it contained friends, decided to drive back and join the other group.

As Warren Carbaugh, 20, Hanover, driver of the auto containing the five Hanover men, drove along he found the other car halted along the road near Dicks Dam. He stopped his vehicle, and then the five men found that they did not know the three young men and three three girls in the other vehicle.

Locate Three Girls
A discussion followed and Ditzler, who was seated in the right front seat of Carbaugh's car, got out of the vehicle and started around the other auto. As he did so a male passenger in the right front seat of that car stepped out of that vehicle and shot twice with a .32 caliber automatic pistol.

Ditzler fell to the ground and the other car drove off. Ditzler's friends put him in Carbaugh's car and drove to a physician's office.

State police said today they had found the three young women who were in the other car, which was owned and operated by one of the girls. The three men, including the one who shot Ditzler, according to police, were said by the three young women to be from Frederick. The young women told police they knew only the first names or nicknames of their three men companions.

Clearance Sale, Shoes, Rose Ann Shoppe, 26 York St., Gettysburg.

A severe thunderstorm Tuesday night caused three fire alarms, plunged three-fourths of Gettysburg into darkness for 19 minutes and caused approximately $20,000 damage at the farm of Gilbert C. Crabill, Gettysburg, where a lightning-set fire destroyed a 75 by 40 foot barn and its contents.

Firemen were called at 9:45 o'clock to the Metropolitan Edison sub-station east of town along the Lincoln Highway when lightning smashed into a transformer, bursting porcelain bushing and setting fire to oil in the transformer. All lights in the Gettysburg area were out momentarily and then a line along the Emmitsburg Rd. cut in restoring power to about one-fourth of the borough.

The general area from Middle St. north was in darkness until power could be restored at the sub-station. Radio Station WGET was off the air during the power failure. Numerous families hurriedly dug out candles and kerosene lamps.

Three Fire Alarms
Three minutes after lightning hit the sub-station east of here, Gettysburg firemen were called to a transformer on a pole along the Harrisburg Rd., near the Pensum Dairy, and about a half mile from the Crabill farm. That blaze had extinguished itself by the time firemen arrived.

At 10:20 the firemen were called to the Crabill farm where they found the barn a mass of flames. The roof of the milk house was also ablaze.

Firemen first on the scene used water from booster tanks in the trucks to wet down a chicken house containing 300 white Leghorns and a turkey house containing 190 turkeys, both of which were being menaced by fire and sparks as wind whipped the whirling flames from the barn fire.

"Best Hay Crop" Gone
Crabill Tuesday afternoon had completed placing approximately 90 tons of baled hay and 100 bushels of barley with other crops in the barn. The hay crop, he said, was the best the farm had ever produced.

The fire in the barn was not immediately discovered when the lightning hit. Mr. and Mrs. Crabill and others in the house heard the bolt crack, but looking out at the barn saw nothing amiss.

Ray Stady, Littlestown R. D., visiting at the Crabill home, left the home about five minutes after the bolt struck. As he drove out the lane past a large shed the east side of the barn came in view and he saw that section of the barn was ablaze. The fire had been hidden from the house by the barn itself and the shed.

Chases Off Livestock
Study rushed to the barnyard and chased steers and sheep from the yard into an adjoining field. Meanwhile his shouts had alarmed the Crabill family and the firemen were summoned.

WORLD WAR I NURSE DIES, 84

Word has been received here of the death Sunday in Hollywood, Calif., of Miss Mary Kate Wolfe, a native of Adams County and nurse in World War I. She was aged about 84.

After graduating as a trained nurse, Miss Wolfe was head nurse in the Municipal Hospital in New York City. After the outbreak of World War I, she volunteered as a nurse and sailed for France in September, 1914, where she served in the American Ambulance Hospital in Paris until the summer of 1917, when the hospital became the first base hospital of the American Expeditionary Force.

In the summer of 1917 she took charge of the American Red Cross station at Angers and remained in charge there until her return to the U. S. in October, 1919. She was the first American woman to be decorated by the French government.

She received three decorations, the Medaille des Epidemiis from the French Department of War, the crossed laurels and palms of the French Academy and the French service bar with crossed palms.

She was officially registered with the French minister of war as infirmiere major.

There are no immediate survivors. Mrs. Goldie Starnier, Ridge Ave., is a cousin.

COLLEGE PLANS 2ND CIVIL WAR CONFAB IN NOV.

An attempt to find an authoritative answer to the question, "Why did the North win the Civil War?" will engage the attention of a group of well-known Civil War specialists at the second annual Civil War Conference sponsored by Gettysburg College on November 16, 17, and 18.

Among those who have accepted invitations to serve as consultants and commentators of the conference are Bruce Catton, Civil War author and historian; William B. Hesseltine, professor of history, University of Wisconsin; and Clifford Dowdley, editor and author of Richmond, Va.

Like the initial convalescence last November, this gathering will feature lectures and discussions on the general theme. Those attending will participate in conducted tours of the Gettysburg and Antietam battlefields and will visit nearby museums and exhibits of Civil War memorabilia.

Open To Public

The conference sessions will be open to the general public. Top Civil War scholars who have accepted invitations to present papers include David Donald, of Columbia University; T. Harry Williams, of Louisiana State University; David M. Potter, of Yale University; Norman A. Graebner, of the University of Illinois; and Richard N. Current, of the University of North Carolina. Professor Donald will serve as program director.

So promising was the conference held last year in conjunction with the college's 125th anniversary celebration, that it has been decided to make it an annual affair. Nearly 1,000 Civil War buffs attended last November and heard lectures on the subject, "The Civil War — an Emergent America."

The approaching Civil War centennial has aroused new interest in the study and reappraisal of known material on this great sectional struggle. It is expected that the centennial observance will unearth new historical treasures of the period — diaries, letters, and mementos of all kinds. For this reason Gettysburg College authorities are examining the prospects of establishing a Civil War Institute on the local campus.

Passive Depository

Such an institute, located in this historic atmosphere provided by the famous battlefield which surrounds the college, would provide a depository and library for Civil War materials and offer a place where students could meet to consider the overall historical significance of the events of 1861-1865. Tentative plans are to earmark Pennsylvania Hall, known familiarly as "Old Derm," to house the institute. This historic structure served as observation post for the officers of both Union and Confederate armies and was later a hospital for the wounded.

The tour will join a Winchester group at Beryville preceding south to Front Royal for luncheon and arriving at Luray between 1 and 2 p.m. There will be no judging on this overnight outing.

A parade in Luray will form on Zerkel St. at the Inn Park at 3:30 p.m. and will proceed along Main St. to the Luray Caverns grounds where it will disband and the cars will be out on display while the owners enjoy a social hour as guests of H. T. N. Graves at the Luray Caverns and the Car and Carriage Caravan. Mr. Graves, a member of the AACA, will present a brass plaque to all members of the tour. FRENCH GROUP

Their visit to Adams County was timed with the cherry harvest and currently they are picking cherries at The Musselman Company's Sunset Orchard.

The trip for the youths is financed jointly by the individuals themselves and the Student Exchange Program of the U. S. Department of State with the Brethren Service Commission assuming the responsibility of finding lodging and arranging for work and travel.

Money, earned by the students during the "work" phase of their program is used for educational travel and sight seeing. Tentative plans are being made for the group to return to Adams County for the peach harvest in August.

Most of the youths are recent graduates of the University of Versailles and will return to France to take posts as teachers of agriculture, county agents, and other horticultural positions.

Much Of Sharon Is Flooded Today

SHARON, Pa. (AP)—Water from the rain-swollen Shenango River flooded the downtown and residential North Plats sections of Sharon today.

Most business establishments in downtown Sharon were closed. Water ranged in depth from six inches to four feet in the lowest spots.

J. Fred Thomas, a civil engineer and former mayor of Sharon, estimated that the damage would be about $500,000.

The State Street bridge was closed. Officials said cracks were detected in the concrete, possibly indicating that the bridge had shifted.

16 years, died Tuesday. His career included ventures in real estate, politics, banking and mining. He was born in Middletown, Conn.

DR. HEIM VISITS SCROLL AREAS IN DANGER SECTION

Dr. Ralph D. Heim, professor of Christian education at the Lutheran Seminary, has arrived in Tel-Aviv, Israel, on the three-month tour that will take him to a dozen countries. As a result he has a ringside seat at the Middle East explosions in Iraq and Lebanon, since Tel Aviv is on the Mediterranean south of Beirut where Marines landed Tuesday.

In a letter dated June 30, Dr. Heim wrote: "Last Saturday morning with two friends I visited the site of the Dead Sea Scroll discoveries and excavations. Later I saw several of the scrolls in the vaults of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

"The scrolls belonged to an ancient Essene community that had its 'monastery' in the desert mountains on the west coast of the Dead Sea. The remains of the stone structure, used as late as the first century A.D., show clearly how the community lived. You see a watch tower, store rooms, many cisterns, an oven and a mill. The most interesting room is a scriptorium where assemblies were held and such books as the 'scrolls' were prepared.

Near Scroll Caves

"The entrances to several of the caves where the scrolls had been stored can be seen in neighboring cliffs, particularly the one that contained the famous manuscript of Isaiah.

"I was accompanied into the hot, below-sea-level area by Dr. A. L. Roberts of New York and William Haddad, Lebanon, also on their way to Tokyo and India meetings on Christian education. Our guide 'Rishi' had participated in the excavations.

Dr. Heim will continue his journey as a member of a board of five international scholars to Hyderabad in South India. Later he will lecture in Osaka, Japan.

GOLDFINE CALLS ADAMS 43 TIMES IN SIX MONTHS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bernard Goldfine testified today he made 43 telephone calls to presidential aide Sherman Adams in a recent six-month period.

In explanation, the Boston millionaire told House investigators that Adams is "one of my best friends... and a friend you call whenever you see fit."

Goldfine said, too, that sometimes the calls were on such matters as tariff regulations which were of interest to his textile firms. The 43 telephone calls were during the period Nov. 20, 1957, to May 11, 1958.

It was Goldfine's seventh day of testimony before the House subcommittee digging into charges that his business interests have received favored treatment from federal regulatory agencies because of his friendship with Adams.

Both Goldfine and Adams have denied any preferential treatment but have told of gifts exchanged between them.

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) hopes his committee can wind up questioning of Goldfine today.

In her leg on July 1. Gary Light testified his father told him of the death of his stepmother and the finding of Mrs. Light's body in the trunk of Gary's wife's auto which his father had borrowed several hours before.

Policeman Leiter said Light had told of driving with his wife to Gettysburg, an argument on a ride through the Barlow-Two Taverns-Natural Dam area, of the cutting of the artery in Mrs. Light's leg, and his discovery of her death.

Recounts Two Versions

Leiter said Light told two stories, the first that Mrs. Light had secured a knife and in the struggle the knife accidentally cut Mrs. Light's leg. The second and more recent story had it that Mr. Light secured the knife before leaving his home and was "pricking" his wife's leg "to make her tell why she lied to him about her clothes," and the "knife just slipped in."

Leiter said Light told him that, after he discovered Mrs. Light was dead, Light drove to a lonely wooded spot near Natural Dam and sat there for several hours, his dead wife's head in his lap, while he drank two bottles of beer and smoked the remainder of a pack of cigarettes before determining to put the body of his wife in the trunk and drive on home.

Leiter said Light told him he struck his wife three times, and had previously, on July 4, struck his wife across the buttocks with a belt. Leiter said the body was bruised in a number of places.

The hearing opened with the reading of the charge against Light, District Attorney Teeter said the charge as drawn constituted manslaughter rather than murder because, while stating that Light killed his wife, it did not have the wording "feloniously, willfully and with malice aforethought." He requested that the words be inserted and told Light that since there was to be a change in the wording of the charge Light could ask for a new hearing if he wished. Light said he understood the change and was willing to go ahead with the hearing at the present time.

Before Justice Snyder asked Light his plea to the charge, Teeter told Light that "it is my duty as district attorney in a case such as this, since you are without counsel, to advise you that the proper response would be 'not guilty.' However you are free to do as you wish."

When Snyder asked the plea, Light said, "Not guilty."

CONGRESS MAY STAND BY WHEN SESSION ENDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislative leaders may decide to keep Congress on call for any new Middle East emergency that might arise after it completes its regular business next month.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) forecast adoption of a resolution under which the party leaders of both houses could call members back into an emergency session if President Eisenhower himself did not do so.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader, said he hasn't had time yet to consider such a proposal.

Follows Truman
Neither he nor Bridges would speculate on whether the Lebanon crisis would prolong the present session. But Bridges said it is his understanding Eisenhower does not now plan to ask for additional funds or other legislation.

Following the course adopted by former President Truman in the Korean War, Eisenhower asked for no formal ratification by Congress of his sending the Marines to Lebanon. He reported it formally to Congress in a special message after he had acted.

The informal reaction was split, largely along party lines. Most Republicans took the attitude that there was no alternative to the use of armed force, a view seconded by only a scattered number of Democrats.

Some Critical
Many Democrats, and some Republicans, were critical of the President's decision. But all, regardless of party, made it clear they would support his action, now that it had been taken.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) said he doesn't believe "the use of troops is any long-term solution to the problems of poverty and Arab nationalism." He said these are responsible for conditions in the Middle East.

Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) said that if it is a civil war in Lebanon "we have no right whatever to intervene." He predicted Lebanon will be "another Korea."

ORIENT FORCES JOINING ALERT

TOKYO (AP)—American troops at the dormant Korean front, in Japan and on Okinawa quietly joined today the U.S. global military alert ordered by President Eisenhower.

Commanders in Japan and Korea said Adm. Felix Stump in alerting his Pacific command meant all ground and air forces as well as the Navy.

Details of how troops sharpened their alert for any eventuality were secret.

Red Leaves Off
Seoul radio carried an unconfirmed report that Communist North Korea has canceled all army leaves and ordered troops back to their units.

A South Korean army spokesman said there were no intelligence reports of unusual developments among Communist troops across the armistice line.

CONTI INNOCENT
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Joseph D. Conti, operator of a suburban Glenside restaurant bearing his name, has been found innocent of charges he evaded income taxes of $38,000.

A U. S. District Court jury of seven women and five men deliberated 3½ hours Tuesday before returning its verdict to Judge Thomas C. Eagan. The taxes were for the period 1951-53.

Rebels Undisturbed
The Lebanese army and police, while officially loyal to Chamoun, have made no determined effort to dislodge the rebels from the Moslem quarter during the 68 days of the rebellion. Activity in Beirut has consisted mainly of frequent exchanges of firing and terrorist bombings to enforce a rebel-called general strike which has been only partly effective.

Reliable observers said the landing of the Marines should be considered a precautionary operation.

"It is still basically a Lebanese show," one said. "The Marines are sitting on the sidelines in case they are needed."

Uncertainty about the purpose of their presence in Lebanon was reflected by the Marines lounging on the sunny beaches.

"If we do any fighting here, we will be on the same side as the Lebanese army, won't we?" asked Pfc. Angelo T. Goscili of Mount Vernon, N.Y. He was eager to know who he would be fighting against but got only vague answers.

TACTICAL GROUP MOVED ABROAD
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense department Tuesday announced the departure of a striking force from the Tactical Air Command to an undisclosed overseas destination.

The announcement described it as an "improved readiness movement."

There was no word in the announcement as to the base from which the aircraft departed, where they are going or when they will arrive.

Pentagon officials would not elaborate on the announcement. The defense department said information as to the destination and composition of the force would be withheld until the aircraft reach their objectives.

was a mass of flames, which were licking out over a hog pen about 50 feet away, another shed about 60 feet away and a chicken house and turkey house both within 75 feet of the blazing structure.

Gettysburg's second pumper was dispatched on arrival to Rock Creek about 1,300 feet away to provide additional water and Barlow, with its large water carrying capacity fire engine was called.

Bonneauville firemen stood by to help if any additional alarms occurred in Gettysburg.

Save Other Buildings

Firemen wet down the nearby buildings while moving items such as kerosene tanks away from the danger zone around the barn. A tractor was used to pull to safety much of the farm equipment near the barn.

Metropolitan Edison workers were called to cut the power on a high tension line leading into the home past the barn after flames began to lick about the lines.

Destroyed with the barn were numerous articles of farm equipment including a 1908 buggy kept as a relic.

Check MECO Damage

When the fire came under control one of the Gettysburg pumpers was returned to Gettysburg about 11:30 o'clock. About 1 o'clock Barlow left the scene. One Gettysburg pumper and its crew remained at the scene until 7 o'clock this morning when it was felt that the fire now smoldering in the hay reached a point where it would no longer be a danger.

No estimate was immediately available on the damage at the Metropolitan Edison sub-station. Experts today were checking the transformer to determine whether it merely needs cleaning or was destroyed by the blaze.

The loss at the Crabb farm is partially covered by insurance. Fire Chief Donald Staub said, in estimating the loss at "about $20,000."

SALISBURY, England (AP)—Farm workers joined today in the search for a dangerous rocket dropped accidentally from a Royal Air Force plane. Police have been racing around this rolling farming country since Tuesday warning people the rocket would explode if exposed to electricity or anything that generates electricity.

Bulgaria, the Balkan republic, has less than half its 42,796 square miles under cultivation. However, one-third of the country is in forests.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Wheat Soars To New High:
Dollar wheat, which disappeared on June 9, 1930, returned to Gettysburg again Wednesday and Adams county farmers welcomed it like a long-lost son. The price now is $1.02.

Wheat made an overnight jump of five cents a bushel. Local warehouses quoted the price on Tuesday at 97 cents.

The yield of Adams county wheat crop is reported "spotty." In some sections the yield will run as high as 25 bushels to the acre while in other sections a yield of only 10 bushels is reported.

Watch Your Speed While In Maryland: Gettysburg and Adams county motorists who are planning trips to Maryland are warned of heavy penalties that may be imposed for violation of the 40-mile speed limit. Instead of a $10 fine provided by Pennsylvania law, motorists in Maryland may be fined up to $1,000 and imprisoned for a year or both, for driving in excess of 60 miles an hour. Between 40 and 60 the minimum fine is $25 and the maximum $100.

Name Jurors For Service At Next Court: With the Oliver D. Kauffman murder case listed for trial at the August term of court the Adams county jury commissioners, assisted by Sheriff John C. Wible and P.S. Orner, clerk, Wednesday drew a panel of 60 petit jurors and 24 grand jurors for the next quarterly term which begins Monday, August 28.

Nine residents of Gettysburg were chosen for petit jury duty and four for grand jury service. Those chosen for petit jury service are George W. Bender, Mark K. Eckert, Burgess C. A. Heiges, Henry Kalbfleisch, D. Sandoe Kitzmiller, Milton R. Remmel, Edward Trostle, Charles A. Willis and George M. Zerling. The local residents drawn for grand jury service are F. M. Garlach, Mrs. N. L. Minter, Ralph J. Stoner and David Stanton.

Local Man Weds In Hagerstown: Miss A. Catherine McDonnell, daughter of Mrs. Harry McDonnell, of Greenmount, and Jay R. Schmitt, 22 West Water street, were married at Hagerstown Monday afternoon by the Rev. J. M. Gilliam, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. They were attended by Miss Sylvia Topper, near Gettysburg, and Ronald W. Adams, of Virginia.

500 Workers Get Increase: A general increase of ten per cent in pay for all employees of the local furniture factories, the Reaser Furniture company, the Gettysburg furniture company and the Gettysburg panel company, was announced this morning by M. C. Jones, general manager of the three companies.

The pay increase will affect between 500 and 600 employees in the three local factories which have been running full time for some time.

Mr. Jones indicated today that prospects were unusually good for a steady increase in business that will warrant the three factories operating at capacity for some weeks at least.

Fink Is Named To P. O. Post At Littlestown: Lawrence Bruce Fink today was recommended to Postmaster General James Farley by Congressman Harry L. Haines for appointment as postmaster of Littlestown.

Mr. Fink will succeed Robert H. Wilson, whose term expired May 10, 1932, and who has been serving an elapsed term. The post pays $2,600 per year less 15 per cent.

660 Persons At Church Picnic Thursday: Between 500 and 600 persons attended the annual picnic of St. James Lutheran church Sunday School at Arendtsville Union park Thursday.

A program of games and contests arranged by Paul Shultz and Howard Hartzell was climaxed by a baseball game between the single and the married men and won by the former.

Winners in the various departmental contests follow: Beginners

Today's Talk

IF INTERESTED

We can do so much better work, and more of it, if we are interested in it, not merely working for money, or acclaim. Take the writer, for example. If he is interested in the writing that he is doing, the chances are that he is doing notable work.

I recently read that a person learns at eighty years of age as easily as at twelve — if that one is interested in learning. Bob Casey, the outstanding reporter for the Chicago Daily News, wrote several books on his experiences as a reporter, and the title that he gave to his first book was "Such Interesting People." He was referring to people whom he met.

If we can interest ourselves, we can interest other people. Books that have something to say live a long time. I read books today that are still great books, and are read by those who are attracted to books that are worth while.

If you are a collector of books that are rare, or of anything else that has captured your interest, the newest variation has an immediate interest. It is our interest in life that is the all-important fact in living. When we lose our interest in a business, or even in a person, we lose the most important asset we could have.

If we didn't keep enlarging our interests we would soon have those about us of no more attractiveness than last year's Christmas tree. It's fresh interests that we want and must have to keep us alive and active. We all — I hope — have friends whom we are always delighted to meet, for they take their interests with them and inspire others to have them.

Even though we live in a troubled world, we cannot afford to lose our interests, or fail to create new ones, if the old ones are so unfortunate as to be dropped or disappear because of neglect.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Assists"

Just Folks

LIFE
Just a little bit of fun
Mixed with sorrow now and then,
Evening sees a duty done.

Morn puts us to work again.
Now a smile, and then a tear,
Rest today, tomorrow strife;
That's an hour, a month, a year
That, when all is said, is life.

Partly good and partly bad,
Partly weak, and partly strong,
Sometimes cheerful, sometimes sad,
Rich and poor both march along.

In the ages that are past
So it was—the same today;
So it will be to the last,
Till this world shall pass away.

Same old hopes and same desires,
Man is seeking to be blest,
Chilled by frost and warmed by fires,
Day for work, and night for rest.

Something gained, and something lost,
Birth and death on every hand;
Ship in port, or tempest tossed,
This is life, divinely planned.

MUSICAL NEXT AT ALLENBERRY

The flapper era will return to the Allenberry Playhouse on Monday when the musical comedy, "The Boy Friend," will open for a two-week run. Prompted by the outstanding success of the 20's comedy, "Cradle Snatchers," and the musical, "By Hex," which played to standing-room only last season, the management has imported from New York a musical troupe to supplement the present company of actors.

PATRICIA YOUNG

"The Boy Friend," which is still playing to packed houses in New York, where it has run for over two years, is a rip-roaring musical comedy burlesque of the fabulous 20's, with flapper costumes, nostalgic songs and riotous dances. The Charleston, the Black-Bottom, the Bunny-Hop and many other dance routines will bring back fond memories to those who recall the heyday of racy costumes, flasks on the hip and cloche hats.

The large cast brought from New York for this production will be headed by Patricia Young. Miss Young last appeared at the Allenberry Playhouse as the star of "Bus Stop."

Opening on July 21 and playing through August 2, "The Boy Friend" will be given Monday through Friday evenings at 8:30 o'clock. Two performances are held each Saturday, one at 8:30 p.m. and one at 9:15 p.m. There is a matinee each Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Due to the heavy advance sale, the management has suggested early reservations be made.

Eastern League

Only two Eastern League games went into the records Tuesday night as rain marred play in all but one contest.

Lancaster bunched seven of its 13 hits and all its runs in the third and fourth innings, defeating Reading, 8-1, in a rain-shortened game. Play was halted after six innings. Al Benza and Bubba Morton each drove in four runs as Gordie Seyfried pitched a six hitter for Lancaster. Springfield defeated the league-leading Binghamton Triplets, 8-1.

Albany at Williamsport and York at Allentown were rained out and doubleheaders were scheduled for tonight in both cities.

The latter game, which went into the sixth at 1-1 before the down-pour cancelled the contest, was saddened by the report of the death earlier in the day of York Business Manager Jim Grieves. He was killed in an auto accident at Ephrata. Grieves, a veteran of the St. Louis Cardinal chain, was en route to the game when the accident occurred on Route 222. The crowd joined in a moment of silent tribute paid by the players after the announcement was made by League President Tommy Richardson.

MANAGER IS KILLED ON WAY TO YORK GAME

EPHRATA, Pa. (AP)—James H. Grieves, 36, business manager of the York White Roses Eastern baseball club was killed Tuesday in an automobile accident while en route to a York game at Allentown.

State police said Grieves was following a car driven by Edward Thompson of Lancaster when a tractor trailer sideswiped Thompson's car, then struck Grieves' auto.

Neither Thompson nor the truck driver, Charles E. Bentler, 31, of Dover, was injured. Bentler was held in $2,000 bail on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

The accident occurred about a mile from Ephrata. Grieves, who was thrown from his car, was found near the big trailer. He died three hours later in Ephrata Community Hospital. Officers said his injuries indicated the rear wheel of the truck passed over him.

Grieves, a former St. Louis newspaperman, had been in the St. Louis Cardinal chain for about 10 years. This was his first year at York.

His wife and young son were reported vacationing in Canada and not immediately available. His parents, who live in Buffalo, N.Y., and a brother also survive.

JAIL FARE POOR

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—Norman K. Smith said he changed his plea to guilty on a burglary charge in Circuit Court because he was "starving to death" on county jail fare and was anxious for the change in menu at Southern Michigan Prison.

10th Annual Classic At Williams Grove

WILLIAMS GROVE, Pa. — A strapping 200-pound Indianapolis veteran, "Wild Bill" Cheesbourg, an all-around mechanic from Tucson, Ariz., will make his debut at the Williams Grove Speedway this Sunday afternoon in the tenth annual "All-Indianapolis" Racing Classic for the championship cars and "500" stars.

The 6-foot-2 Westerner, who survived the worst accident in Indianapolis history on Memorial Day which claimed the life of Pat O'Connor in a crash involving 15 cars, to finish tenth will drive the Chiropractic Spel. as the championship trail stops at the Cumberland County oval.

Cheesbourg has been campaigning the car with success on the championship circuit. The Arizonian moved up into the first 10 at the half-way mark in the "500" despite the fact he had the dubious distinction of starting last in the 33-car starting field. His qualifying time was 142.546 miles per hour.

FATHER SOUGHT FOR MURDER OF THREE CHILDREN

TROY, Pa. (AP) — A young woman found her three small daughters shot to death last night. Her husband was reported missing from their farm home near the New York state border.

Mrs. Margaret Pelton, 23, said she returned to the house after a visit and found Connie, 2, slumped in her stroller, seemingly asleep. Concerned that the child was up so late, she called out to her husband, Paul Pelton, 19.

There was no answer. She suddenly realized Connie was shot. She ran into the bedroom. Patricia, 3, was on the bed. Pauline, 6 months, was in a basket. The children were dead.

Becomes Hysterical
Mrs. Pelton said later she ran out to the garage where her father, Carlton Brion, 45, had just parked the car. She yelled hysterically:

"We got to get help quick, the children are dead."
Brion had driven his daughter to Troy Community Hospital earlier in the evening for a visit with Pauline's twin brother, Paul, who was critically ill. They had been gone about four hours. Their home is just outside Troy, about 25 miles south of Elmira, N.Y.

Search For Husband
A police search was on for Pelton, although Bradford County Coroner Gerald Vickery said there was not much to indicate he did the shooting, beside the facts he was missing and so was his .22 calibre rifle.

Police said the children had been shot with a .22, Patricia in the head, and Pauline and Connie in the stomach. Another of Pelton's three rifles, which he usually kept in the house, was found in the barn.

Mrs. Pelton told a newsman that her husband, a slender 6-footer, had been a cheerful devoted man during their four years of marriage and was very fond of his four children.

Recently Laid Off
Pelton, who recently was laid off at a women's stocking factory, had just bought the children new clothes, Mrs. Pelton said.

She said she put the children to bed and before she left for the hospital her husband had said: "You stay at the hospital as long as you want to and I will watch the children."

He had given her a dollar for a snack.

LATVIAN YOUTH IS NOW CITIZEN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 15-year-old boy who was born in Communist-controlled Latvia is an American citizen today and has no further fear of being returned to his native land.

Julius Pulvers Jr., was placed in the permanent legal custody of his naturalized father Tuesday by Municipal Court Judge Adrian Bonnelly. The boy thus automatically became a United States citizen.

His mother, homesick for her native Latvia, wants to take him back with her. Julius had said in court that he loved his mother but wanted to stay in this country with his father. The Pulvers had separated after coming to this country.

Judge's Ruling
Judge Bonnelly, in his ruling, said that while there was no legal or moral reason why the boy's mother should not have custody of her child, his father was equally qualified.

The judge said the boy's feelings against even a visit to Latvia

Some Turnpike Income Runs Under Estimates

HARRISBURG (AP)—Income from the Northeastern Extension and the Delaware River Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike is still running under estimates.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission reported today June income from these two sections totaled $435,563 with interest requirements running $762,000. The deficiency was made up from an appropriation from some 40 million dollars left over from the 238-million-dollar bond sale for the links.

But income from the main section of the superhighway, running from the Ohio State line to King of Prussia, continued to be high. For June, it amounted to $1,748,000 compared to $366,011 in interest requirements for the month from $142,361,000 in bonds still outstanding.

STORMS CAUSE HEAVY DAMAGE IN WESTERN PA.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Residents of storm-ravaged communities in Mercer and Venango Counties today began cleaning up damage caused by flash flooding after heavy rains.

The rains Tuesday washed out a number of bridges, forced the closing of numerous highways and the detouring of railroad trains. At least one death was directly traceable to the flooding. Four-month-old Sandra Dilley was drowned when she was swept from her father's grasp as they attempted to reach higher ground near their home at Raymlton, Venango County.

Three persons were injured, had convinced the bench the best place for Julius would be with his father in this country.

ANGLO-YANKEE AID TO JORDAN IS UNDER STUDY

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The United States and Britain are considering what aid they can give Jordan's King Hussein to help him "restore peace and stability" in Iraq, a government spokesman said today.

The Jordan radio indicated Tuesday night Hussein had appealed to Washington and London for military help.

A government statement broadcast today said Iraq would soon receive help from Jordan, "and other Arab countries who seek peace and stability which will settle the Iraqi crisis." The other countries were not identified.

Hussein proclaimed himself head of the Arab Union of Iraq and Jordan after his cousin King Faisal II of Iraq was overthrown Monday by a military coup in Baghdad.

The statement noted that reports were still conflicting on the fate of Faisal. He has been reported wounded, besieged in his palace and in hiding.

The U. S. State Department said two Americans and a former Iraqi foreign minister, Fadhil Jamali, also had been reported killed by Baghdad mobs.

The Americans were tentatively and unofficially identified as Eugene Burns, 53, Sausalito, Calif., a wild life columnist looking into tourist possibilities in the area, and George Colley, about 56, San Francisco, executive vice president of Pacific Bechtel Corp., a construction company, who was inspecting oil projects in Iraq.

The chiefs of state of three Asian members of the Baghdad Pact — Turkey, Irawn and Pakistan — continued a meeting in Ankara without Iraq.

None seriously, when five house trailers were bowled over by a terrific gust of wind during an afternoon storm near Zelienople in Butler County.

A truck driver escaped serious injury when his tractor-trailer rig plunged into Little Sandy Creek at a washed out bridge on Route 322, near Greenville. The driver, John Styer, 38, of Danville, Pa., was treated by a physician for an eye injury.

A bolt of lightning set fire to a three-story frame building in Waterman near Indiana. The building, which housed the Nu-Bilt Upholsterers Co., was completely destroyed. Several firemen were treated for smoke inhalation, but there were no serious injuries.

More rain fell Tuesday night, but not enough to make the situation much worse. Several creeks rose slowly but did not spill their banks.

Road Construction Contracts Awarded

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Highways Department Tuesday awarded the following road construction contracts:
Lycoming—U.S. 15 and 220 and Route 14, 1124 miles; to Interstate Amiesite Corp. Concordville, $254,155.

JUNE BROUGHT MORE RECOVERY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government figures show June brought further recovery for the nation's economy.

Industrial production rose, new housing starts increased, nonagricultural employment made advances and personal income was up.

The Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial activity showed a production rise for the second straight month after dropping for eight months. The rise for June was two points to 130 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

Low In April
The recession low of 126 was reached last April. The index record is 147 set in December 1947. The Commerce Department reported personal income rose in June to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $351,800,000,000, a figure just 300 million dollars below the record set last August. The 1958 low of $346,400,000,000 was set in February.

The Commerce Department said the June rise reflected increases in wage and salary payments.

M'KAY LEADS AT 4TH ROUND

CHICAGO (AP) — Top-seeded Barry MacKay, the power-serving Davis Cupper, led a host of rated performers today into the fourth round of the 48th annual National Clay Court Tennis Tournament.

The 22-year-old Dayton, Ohio, stroker, one of America's best Davis Cup bets, encountered some trouble in blasting out two victories Tuesday in suburban River Forest.

Arriving from Davis Cup zone play in Canada, MacKay had some difficulty from 15-year-old Bobby Siska of San Francisco before winning the second round match, 6-3, 6-4.

Other Top Fighters
Then he turned back Gay Messick of Western Springs, Ill., by a similar score.

Bernard (Tut) Bartzan, seeking another title to go with the crown he captured in 1954, lost only two games in taking decisions from Mike Gordon and Parker Hall Jr., both of Chicago.

Other top-rated players joining MacKay in the fourth round were Whitney Reed, Alameda, Calif., a 6-1, 6-0 winner over Walter Sampson Jr., Chicago; Sammy Giam-

Sailor Honeymoons At Charleston Dock

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (AP) — A Navy man was married at 2 a.m. today and about an hour later was en route back to his ship.

The unusual hour for the wedding and the hasty return to duty was in compliance with the alert of the U.S. fleets because of the crisis in Lebanon.

Francis A. Theroux, 20, of Pawtucket, and Ethel Barker, also 20 and of Pawtucket, were to have been married at 9 a.m. today.

Because Theroux was hastily summoned to duty from a furlough, he got special permission from the Most Rev. Russell J. McViney, Catholic bishop of Providence, for a 2 a.m. wedding at St. Teresa's Church.

At 3:45 a.m., Theroux boarded a train alone to return to his ship, the USS Salute docked at Charleston, S.C.

CAMPAIGN FOR BIGGER GRANTS FOR ASSISTANCE

HARRISBURG (AP)—A campaign to seek increased funds for public assistance from the next General Assembly is being planned by the State Board of Public Assistance.

Harry Shapiro, secretary of public welfare, told a meeting of the board Tuesday that the state is paying only 65 per cent of the minimum needs of a family of four as determined in a 1957 minimum subsistence study.

The board meeting was the 28th under Democratic control, the first attended by Shapiro and the first open to the press. Shapiro inherited the board as secretary of the new Public Welfare Department, formed last month by a merger of Shapiro's old Welfare Department and the Department of Public Assistance.

$62 Per Month Short

The secretary suggested as three principal considerations in drawing up the public assistance budget for the 1959-61 biennium: Taking care of people who need help, avoiding waste of money and determining how far the board wants to go along with a minimum subsistence study report.

The report, Shapiro noted, estimated $215 a month as the minimum aid a family of four needs for subsistence. The maximum state payment is $153 monthly, he added.

"For food alone, the deficiency runs from 14 per cent to 50 per cent," he declared.

Nothing that hundreds of thousands of dollars are paid monthly for physicians and clinics to treat the needy, he asked whether these cost items might not be large because people of public assistance are not receiving living allowances to maintain good health.

It was estimated that it would take an additional 90 million dollars a biennium to meet the recommendations of the report. The public assistance appropriation for the 1957-59 biennium is 146 million.

The board and Shapiro agreed that meetings should be held here and in various parts of the state to gather sentiment from interested persons on public assistance needs.

MOSCOW (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson came back to Moscow Tuesday after 32 years. He noticed that this time there are no homeless children on the streets, he said.

The two-time Democratic presidential candidate was met by a small group of government officials and newsmen.

He leaves Thursday for Tashkent, the first stop on a three-week tour of the Soviet Central Asia, Siberia and the Urals.

His main purpose on the trip, Stevenson said, is to learn about the living and working conditions of the Soviet people.

CEIL CHAPMAN IS U. S. MALE'S TOP FAVORITE

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—The "Dancing Nymph" silhouette is Ceil Chapman's latest contribution to the field of feminine skulduggery after dark.

Shown in both cocktail and long evening gowns, it is based on a slender sheath, with cocoon-shaped puffed panels caught under at hipline or hemline, for highly dramatic effect.

The glamor designer follows the season's trend to Empire waistlines, but puts her heart into such man-traps as a long, slender, white brocade evening sheath with long, tight sleeves, a low neckline and a platinum fox border at the hemline.

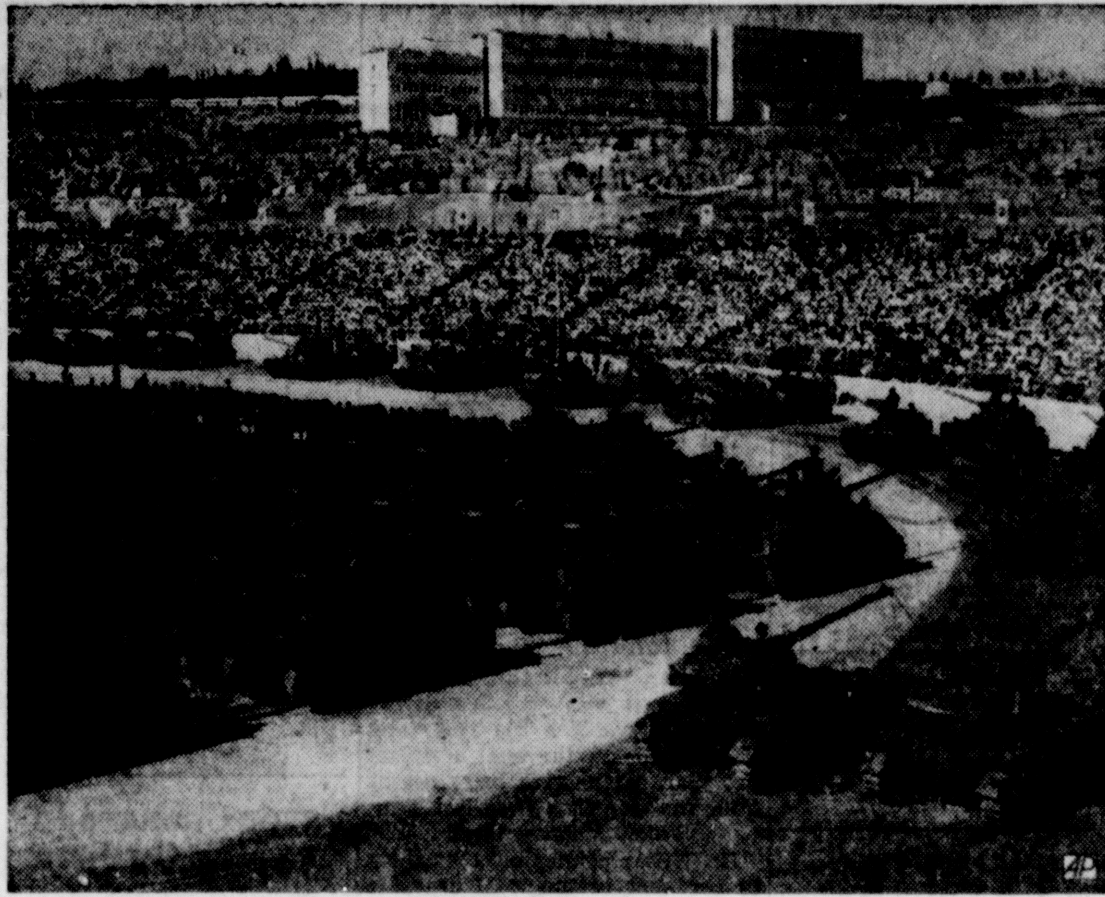

Keeps Figure Lines

No matter what the prevailing silhouette, Mrs. Chapman never obscures the basic lines of the feminine figure—perhaps one reason why she is the U. S. male's favorite designer. This season she uses a device called the "masked sheath" to bow to the Empire line and still reveal a trim waistline. This type of dress has bands or seaming beneath the high, rounded bustline, with filmy, transparent floating skirt over a fitted slip. This gives movement and airiness to the silhouette, but does not hide the lines of the body beneath it all.

dressess "with fitted bodices and full skirts to please girls who still believe in the impact of a slender, natural waistline, well displayed. There also are frankly fitted floor-length sheaths, usually with long, tight sleeves, in fabulous brocades, satins and jeweled effects, designed to dramatize feminine curves.

"After all," says Ceil, "a woman is still a woman, so why not admit it?"

MONTROSE, Pa. (AP)—Robert Blaisure, 11, of Nimmensburg, N.Y., near Binghamton, drowned Monday while swimming with two brothers and friends in a farm pond near here.

Robert and his brothers, Charles 8, and James 7, were visiting at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer Jr. The children said they saw the youngster thrash in the water and go under. State police recovered his body.

Fall Fashions Called Strictly Feminine, Pleasing To Men

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the year for the men, says globe-trotting designer Hannah Troy, presenting a collection of strictly feminine fall fashions for the nation's fashion press.

The new clothes for fall shown by Mrs. Troy and most other New York couture designers prove that women do dress to please men, after all. The loud cries of male anguish which greeted this summer's sack dresses, which made most women look like an unmade bed, have been heeded by the gals who set the pace for American fashions.

So there are no more shapeless chemises in view, no more of the grotesque silhouettes which suggested national mass pregnancy, and modified the unfitted silhouette into such a variety of styles that any woman should be able to find a flattering wearable outfit for fall.

Anything More Intriguing?

Most popular with Mrs. Troy and others slated to preview fall collections this week is the high-waisted Empire line. It is shown in both slim and flared versions, with accents just below the bust in the form of loose belts, bands or other trimming.

For calculated allure, consider Hannah's short evening dress in ice blue satin, with "pouffant" skirt and ostrich hemline, worn with a matching coat.

"Now that women are showing their legs again," says Mrs. Troy, "interest shifts to the hemline—and can you imagine anything more intriguing than a moving, fluttering fringe of ostrich about a pair of beautiful American legs?"

Male designers also go along with the more feminine, graceful look for fall, including Paul Parnes, who shows a series of new-looking and wearable costumes combining fur-collared tweed jackets with slim Empire dresses.

The collection at the New York house of Christian Dior, the second designed by young Yves St. Laurent, features the "Liberty Line," and tends toward modifications of his trapeze silhouette of last spring. The clothes are youthful and in most cases highly wearable, with big-collared, bulky coats and jackets shown for daytime wear.

In the suit collections jackets are short and unfitted, with wide draped collars, big bows and other neckline accents. Sometimes fabric bands are used belt-wise on jackets to accent the high-waisted line.

There are many short evening gowns with dome or bell shaped skirts, many with a huge bow and sash at the bust, front and center, with trapeze drape falling from shoulders to hem in back.

TOKYO (AP)—The U. S. Army Tuesday returned Camp Whittington, its 204 buildings and its 17½ million square foot reservation to Japan.

The camp 140 miles northwest of Tokyo was returned as part of a reduction of U. S. facilities in connection with the continuing cut-back in American forces in Japan.

Trial Reveals Strange Life Of Rich, Eccentric Londoner

By DENNIS NEED
LONDON (AP) — Wealthy old William Erskine Gulland was described as "something of an eccentric old gentleman." It was a crown jewel of understatement.

Atty. Edward Garner told the East Kent Court Monday:

Gulland, 61, lives in a cliff-top mansion but sleeps every night in a car parked out front.

Chases Fire Engines
For a break in routine, he halls a cab and chases fire engines or goes to a railroad and watches the trains go by.

He never undresses except to take a bath and that "not more than three times a year."

He has a penchant for cats—60 of them roaming through the art treasures and gold and silver ornaments cluttering his home.

Tissue Collector
Toilet paper is one of the household's major purchases. Eight dozen rolls are delivered each week because everything the master touches must first be cleaned with tissue.

The strange story of life in the Gulland manse came out in connection with the trial of one of the servants, Harold Berry. He worked 18 months before seeing his boss. When he took his meals to his room, he handed them through the half-open door.

Another 18 months later, Berry found the safe keys in the garden. He stole jewelry worth $2,000, sold it for $1,000 and lost it gambling.

Monday night Berry was beginning a nine-month jail sentence. His old boss was curled up on the back seat of his car.

WEATHER IS SLOWING WORK

HARRISBURG (AP)—Wet and humid weather slowed farm activities in Pennsylvania during the past week.

The State Agriculture Department's weekly crop summary for the week ending Monday said fields were too wet for cultivating corn or combining wheat.

The summary said in part:

"In the north central areas farmers were unable to get into fields to harvest barley. Lodging of small grains was also prevalent throughout the state and could damage the wheat crop.

"Second cuttings of hay in the south and central areas were greatly impeded due to rains. Fields of hay in many areas were cut but not cured. First cuttings still lay in the fields in many northern Erie areas. Pastures remained in fairly good condition, with some being slightly short.

"Wheat harvest in the south and central counties will begin this week."

lension property in Upper Merion Twp. Such places have been exempt from county taxes thus far.

Sigmund Harrison, board chairman, said he and two other members contend that profit-making enterprises of this type are subject to taxation.

William Jenkins, supervisor of three Johnson restaurants in the county, said they are owned by Penn Turnpike Shops, Inc. Atlantic leases its service stations in private dealerships.

The first laboratory for instruction in shaped diamond tool technology was established at Illinois Institute of Technology in 1956.

SEE BEST YEAR EVER ON POLIO IN THIS STATE

HARRISBURG (AP) — State health officials were cautiously optimistic today that Pennsylvania will get through the peak polio months with the lowest number of reported cases in its history.

The optimism was bolstered by the fact that only one case was reported through the first six months of the year. Dr. Charles L. Wilbar, state health secretary, said this was the best record yet, surpassing the previous six-month low of 12 cases during the first half of 1957.

However, the health secretary cautioned it was "far too early" to predict whether the 1958 total would be below the total of 41 set last year. There were three deaths from the crippling virus last year.

Worst Months Ahead
Dr. Wilbar pointed out that about 80 per cent of the total cases in any one year come during August, September and October.

Dr. W. D. Schrack Jr., director of the Division of Communicable Disease Control, said, "We'll just have to wait and see what develops."

Nearly 13 million doses of the Salk antipolio vaccine have been made available in Pennsylvania since 1955 when the vaccine was developed.

7 Million Unprotected
This is enough to carry over four million people through the complete immunization program of three shots, Dr. Schrack said, but pointed out it would still leave some seven million Pennsylvanians unprotected.

He estimated that about 40 per cent of the people over 20 have not completed the immunization and about 10 per cent or more under 20, particularly in the 15-19 age group.

Dr. Schrack said the state will continue to receive 9,000 doses of the vaccine a month until next July when its share of federal aid will become exhausted. The state has appropriated no money itself for the purchase of vaccine.

TAX JUMP COMING
WASHINGTON (AP) — An increase in old age Social Security benefits, together with a hike in the payroll tax, moved today toward approval by the House Ways and Means Committee.

It would mean an addition of 10 per cent, or a minimum of $5, to present Social Security pension checks under proposals now reportedly favored by committee members.

Favor Changes In Law On Juveniles

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The Pennsylvania Magistrates Assn. adopted a resolution at its 60th annual convention Tuesday asking that the state law be changed to reduce the juvenile age from 18 to 16 and marking parents responsible for any damage caused by their children.

In another resolution, the association asked that in a proposed revision of the state constitution, controversial issues be submitted separately instead of together.

Some of the proposed changes would require peace justices to be "learned in the law" or let county courts handle the work they now do.

State Superior Court Judge Robert E. Woodside told the group that these were the views of "extremists." The jurist is chairman of the constitution revision committee appointed by Gov. George M. Leader.

Backed By Clark
Numerous members of the Penn-

sylvanian congressional delegation — Republicans and Democrats alike — have sponsored various versions of the bill and urged passage of some form regardless of authorship.

In the Senate, Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) has been one of the co-sponsors of the legislation and one of the most ardent supporters of federal loans and grants to establish new industry in the hard-hit areas.

Clark's office reported today that a number of new areas have been added in recent months to the list of those with high enough unemployment to make them eligible for aid, probably, under the bill.

The more recent additions include Allentown-Bethlehem, Reading, York, Philadelphia, Butler, Pittsburgh, New Castle and Sayre-Athens-Towanda.

SCOTT NEEDLES DEMOCRATS IN HOUSE ON BILL

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) chided House Democrats today for not advancing Senate-passed legislation to aid the chronically depressed areas of Pennsylvania and other parts of the nation.

Scott, a member of the House Rules Committee, told a newsman he has been keeping in close touch with committee activities and has heard of no request from Rep. Brent Spence (D-Ky.) for floor action on the depressed areas bill.

Spence is chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee which more than a week ago gave its approval to the bill.

Sees Delaying Tactics
The measure must be acted upon by the rules committee, however, to go to the floor for a vote.

"It seems to me they're talking one way and acting another," said Scott. "It could be that they're delaying it to the end of the session."

The bill is of great importance to Pennsylvania. The Keystone State has just about as many depressed areas as any state in the nation.

Gov. George M. Leader and members of his cabinet, including William L. Batt Jr., secretary of labor and industry, and William L. Davlin, secretary of commerce, have made repeated trips to Washington to urge passage of an aid bill.

Backed By Clark
Numerous members of the Penn-

sylvanian congressional delegation — Republicans and Democrats alike — have sponsored various versions of the bill and urged passage of some form regardless of authorship.

In the Senate, Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) has been one of the co-sponsors of the legislation and one of the most ardent supporters of federal loans and grants to establish new industry in the hard-hit areas.

Clark's office reported today that a number of new areas have been added in recent months to the list of those with high enough unemployment to make them eligible for aid, probably, under the bill.

The more recent additions include Allentown-Bethlehem, Reading, York, Philadelphia, Butler, Pittsburgh, New Castle and Sayre-Athens-Towanda.

STAFF CHIEFS WERE ALERT TO CRISIS NEEDS

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The strategy-making Joint Chiefs of Staff have handy how-to-do-it plans for all manner of situations, from nuclear wars down to landing in Lebanon.

The huge folio of tactics and strategy is kept constantly revised. The period involved may be a short-range six weeks in the future or a long-range 15 years hence.

File Of Code Names
Even such details as a file of code names for tagging each operation and a "specified" command setup is ready. The command is established on paper, then kept dormant until the need for its use arises.

Thus "Cincspcom" was ready. Translated from Pentagonese, that means "Commander in Chief, Specified Command, Middle East."

It now develops that Cincspcom had existed, quietly, since a previous crisis in the Middle East, when Egypt and Israel quarreled along the Suez two years ago.

Followed Suez Crisis
The United States, following its policy of keeping out of the Middle East hot spot, had made no provisions for an over-all, unified command in the Middle East until the Suez crisis threatened war.

Tuesday, as Marines landed in the Middle East, the Pentagon disclosed that Adm. James L. Holloway had hurried to the scene from his London headquarters to take over the dormant specified command under which naval and Marine units and any subsequent Air Force and Army units in the area will operate. This is in addition to Holloway's regular job as commander in chief of the West naval forces in the eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean (just call it "Cincmed").

Detailed Plan
The intricate details for getting men and supplies to the Middle East was part of the ready, overall plan. Aircraft and ships were ready to provide the back-up support and reinforcements for the three Marine battalions afloat on ships in the Mediterranean.

Indeed, one phase of the logistics had been practiced weeks ago. The score of Air Force C-124 transport-cargo planes which landed in Western Germany followed the pattern of a similar flight made about two months ago when the Middle East situation sharpened momentarily.

The assumption was that the first use for these huge, three-decker planes—each able to carry 200 soldiers—probably would be to transfer two airborne battle groups of the 24th Infantry Division to Lebanon.

Fleet Functions
These battle groups, transferred to the German-based infantry division when the 11th Airborne Division was deactivated, are specialists in this particular type of police action.

The 6th Fleet of the U. S. Navy, which, roams the Mediterranean, has two primary functions: to provide air and sea support to the NATO forces in Europe if the Soviet Union strikes there, and to cope with incidents in the Mediterranean basin, like the threat to Lebanon's security.

The 6th Fleet is supposed to be able to operate independently of any supply or repair facilities ashore. Among its approximately 50 ships are provisions vessels, tankers and repair ships, all capable of keeping the fleet going even though war or diplomacy should close every Mediterranean port to the fleet.

TV PERFORMER EARNS KEEP AS VOICE DOUBLE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Allan Swift thinks he probably turned in the greatest television performance in his life when he was a liquid lead pencil.

But he admits that as a cup of instant coffee he was also pretty hot stuff.

In recent months Swift has been extremely busy as a three-way lamp, a glass of beer, a pack of cigarettes and an assortment of human beings, ranging from old and female to child and male. Some of his more delicate assignments recently, he says, have been to do the talking for tennis champion Pancho Gonzalez, golf champ Cary Middlecoff and bowling champ Don Carter. The lads were doing cigarette testimonials for TV commercials but their voices weren't quite right for their jobs.

Voice Of Commercials
Swift, a former standup comedian of the night club and vaudeville circuits, is the voice on some 400 commercials. He says his income is higher than "the hottest television performer in the business." The gross exceeded $200,000 last year and with the voice for animation continuing, he expects to do better this year.

"I'm a pretty good mimic," he confesses, "but I think the trick to doing voices lies in a sensitive ear."

Over the years, he says, he has assembled quite a number of tools with which to construct a wide range of voices.

Lists Qualities
"You start with a child's voice," he explains. "It is light, with a breathiness and tendency to over-articulate. In adolescence, its tone goes down, cracks a bit, with some breathiness. The young man is lower, with an even mixture. And around 50 or 60, there's a sloppiness of articulation. In old age, the over-articulation starts again—this time to compensate for a loss of breath."

Along with these basic ingredients, Swift mixes in, as needed, a raspy, foggy, strained, nasal or sinus quality.

Swift thinks he's solved the perennial problem of the actor. As long as he can talk, he can eat. "I'd drop the whole thing like a shot if I got a chance for a good role in a Broadway play," he admits.

SEES PMA IN 'LAST STAND'

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, said today the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Assn. can be driven out of politics in the Nov. 4 general election.

"This is the last stand for the PMA," said Barr. "It is ready news stand and shoe repair shop run by the defendant. The magistrate held defendant Vernie Brunson, 52, for grand jury action."

Philly JP Charged In Fatal Stabbing

JARRETTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Justice of the Peace Walter P. Ridley held David F. Boyce Jr., 28, of Philadelphia, without bail on a homicide charge Tuesday in the death of William E. Mossau.

Mossau was fatally stabbed Sunday night while visiting at the home of Boyce's former wife in Upper Dublin Twp. Boyce, meanwhile, had spent the day in New Jersey with Mrs. Mossau, who was estranged from her husband.

Boyce has admitted fighting with Mossau, 30, also of Philadelphia, but has denied the stabbing.

OPEN MEETING HELD BY BOARD

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Board of Public Assistance has held its first open meeting but board members questioned the right of the press to attend future sessions.

Harry Shapiro, secretary of public welfare, told reporters earlier that Tuesday's meeting of the board would be open to the press.

When the board gathered, with reporters present, Chairman Dr. Jesse D. Reber said there are three very good reasons why the board should meet behind closed doors:

"The open meeting (right-to-know) law does not apply; certain things are confidential, and most of the things we do do not make very good copy," he said.

The five members then ratified Shapiro's action but agreed that the attorney general's office be asked to rule whether the 1957 act making meetings of certain public agencies open to the public applied to the Public Assistance Board. The state administration has extended provisions of the act to several agencies by executive ruling.

Shapiro, although not a member of the board, inherited it as secretary of the new Department of Public Welfare formed by the merger of the Welfare and Public Assistance Departments. This also was his first meeting with the board.

FITCHBURG, Mass. (AP)—The Charlton brothers—Robert E., 33, and Francis J., 32—agree in most matters but not in politics. Robert is running for the Republican nomination for a seat in the Massachusetts House. Francis also is a candidate for the same seat but on the Democratic ticket.

now for the sweetest licking of its life. It is ripe enough to fall out of the tree of politics, with a little nudge."

Barr spoke at a political seminar among Democratic candidates for the Legislature. The meeting was called to acquaint candidates with statewide issues.

Barr said the Republican ticket headed by Arthur T. McGonigle for governor was dominated by the PMA. James F. Malone, PMA president, had sat in on GOP ticket-slating conferences.

Democratic senators were expected to caucus on choosing a new floor leader to replace John H. Dent. Jeannette, who was elected to Congress last January, Sen. Frank W. Ruth (D-Berks), now party whip, was reportedly in line for the leadership post.
